NEW PRODUCTS

The labels team is also active in developing and delivering new products to meet changing market demands. Examples of this include dry peel fridge magnets that can be produced in a variety of bespoke shapes and sizes and coated with a wide range of face materials such as coated papers or plastics. The finished magnets can be laser personalised and used for a variety of purposes – promotional items, help line numbers or reminders.

Integrity Print has also developed a secure wristband product for use in the healthcare market. The wristband combines an adhesive area and a delaminated area for ease of use and can be fully bar-coded or personalised as required.

The Integrity Print sales team would be pleased to talk through any applications that you might require and work with you to deliver cost effective solutions for your label requirements.
